A Few Women Are Not Cowards

COURAGE is of the spirit, not of the body. The girl who recently with a shotgun held a burglar prisoner in a barn, the fifteen-year-old Chicago messenger girl who knocked down the leader of a mob of boys who were after her and kept them at bay till a policeman came to her help, the girl who caught a runaway horse and held him when men looked on, afraid to tackle him themselves; that other girl who when attacked by a negro of twice her strength coolly ran a hatpin through his cheek and sent him off howling with pain—these young women were built precisely like other women except in one particular—they had bone instead of a jellyfish substance up their backs.

Miss Banks, the shotgun heroine, was alone in her country home. She heard some one trying to enter the house and instantly caught up a loaded shotgun and fired at the intruder. He ran like a blue streak into the barn, fearing to be shot if he took the open path. Miss Banks, equal to anything, ran after him and fired into the barn. He was afraid to stir out. By that time the shooting aroused neighbors, and they came running to her aid. She kept the fellow in the barn till he was captured. Maybe next time he will hesitate before concluding it is dead easy to rob a house with a girl alone in it.

Yet more striking as illustrating feminine clear grit is the story of the Chicago messenger girl, Jaunite Bonneau.

A GIRL CAUGHT THE RUNAWAY.
She is a daughter of the people, no coddled rich little girl who had had all the courage and real womanhood "protected" out of her. Jaunite took the place of one of the striking messenger boys who were dismissed from the District Telegraph service in Chicago. The girl had an invalid mother to support.

One day she started out to deliver the usual telegraph envelopes. A mob of boys followed her. At a signal they made a rush for her and tried to take the messages from her. The leader of the mob struck her in the face. The blow raised all the spirit in the girl. She sprang at him like a wildcat and knocked him down like a man. There wasn't any "weak woman" in Jaunite's fist. As the boy fell his mates rushed toward her. With feminine resourcefulness she grabbed a hatpin out of her cap and jabbed around her in every direction. As the jabs struck home, naturally those that received these tokens of a girl's regard fell back in a ring around her. By that time policemen arrived and arrested the boys. Jaunite magnanimously declined to appear against her vanquished enemy, the mob leader.

"I guess I punished him enough," she said to the officer. The reader also will "guess" that she did. The woman reader will glory in her grit.

The usefulness of a hatpin in the hands of a woman of pluck was again demonstrated when, not long ago, a beautiful and cultivated young lady, Miss Hamilton, was attacked by a huge negro, who sprang upon her in a lonely place. Not once did she lose her head. The black fellow grasped her by the throat and attempted to choke her into insensibility. She waited till his face was near enough to use woman's weapon, the hatpin, to best advantage; then she gave it to him with all her might and saved herself. Perhaps this fellow, too, will think twice another time before concluding a girl is an easy prey.

Best of all, though, is the story of Miss McGlinchey, who caught a runaway horse. A horse attached to a carriage bolted down a village street, burling his driver, a woman, to the ground. A lot of men stood around, and they shouted:

"Catch him! Catch him!" but not one of them made a move to do so. It was too dangerous.

"I can catch that horse," remarked Miss McGlinchey, and she did. She darted into the street as the horse dashed by, seized him by the bit and held on until he stopped. Next time there is a runaway horse in that town will the men wait for a woman to jump in and catch him?

DR. ANITA AUGSPURG.

The New Woman as a Disturber in Germany.

An amusing story comes from over the water in regard to how the woman question is agitating the official breast of the fatherland. Fraulein Anita Augspurg, LL. D., regularly doctor of laws, therefore undoubtedly sane and brainy, has constituted herself standard bearer of the German new woman army, and valiantly she marches into the fray afoot and a-horseback. The tout ensemble she presents in the horse contest appears in the picture herewith, a little mite of a woman in knickerbockers bestriding a big white steed.

What is more, she likewise appears in the knickerbockers when she is not mounted upon the big white steed, thus declaring the right of woman not only to ride astride, but also to walk free from the skirt bondage of the ages.

As a consequence Dr. Anita Augspurg has been arrested time and again

A GERMAN NEW WOMAN ON HORSEBACK.
In Berlin, in Cologne, Munich, Wiesbaden and last of all in Weimar, where a do to was made that was noised throughout the press of Germany. In every place where she is arrested Dr. Augspurg takes advantage of the situation to make propaganda for her cause, which officials would undoubtedly be glad to spell "caws" if only the German language were equal to it. As it is, they are in despair. Dr. Anita Augspurg makes more disturbance in Germany than Dr. Mary Walker ever did in the United States, and the police there do not know what to do with her. At every arrest they are laughed at, and still they feel as if they must make an example of this "fighting woman's righter," as a Berlin newspaper editor calls her.

At Weimar she descended from a railway train in sight of a policeman. There had been lately in the little city much robbery and thieving. The perspicacious policeman saw the small person in knickers and pounced upon her as a man in disguise, probably the robber who had been affrighting the honest citizens of Weimar. He asked her who she was and where she came from. She replied to him that his impudence passed all bounds, and she bade him lead on to his old station house, which he did, perhaps not altogether contrary to her desire and expectation, for the arrest raised a great row.

The officials of Weimar were put in a light so ridiculous and so distasteful to them that their head, Oberbürgermeister Gehelmer Regierungsrath Pabst, felt constrained to write an explanation of the affair for the newspapers. He declared her dress, voice, manner and gesture as she took off her hat and ran her fingers through her hair proclaimed Dr. Anita Augspurg to be a man, and a suspicious one at that; hence the arrest.

CHINESE WOMEN.

One of Them at Last Speaks Up For Liberty.

Not long since San Francisco was treated to the spectacle of a Chinese girl orator proclaiming before a public audience of white and oriental men and a few oriental women fenced off in a gallery by themselves that the time has come when the female sex of China must be enlightened. The old order must give way to the new.

The girl speaker was Siah King King, Chinese maiden who has come from her own land to receive the education of a white woman at the California university at Berkeley. She lives with her uncle there, and he approves entirely of her revolutionary ideas. Siah King King makes some statements that are surprising. She says the Chinese men are ready now to give their women both liberty and education; that they would be glad to see their mothers and sisters raised to a level with the feminine sex of western nations, but the women themselves are afraid of the light. These stunted, timid creatures desire freedom above all things, but when it is offered them they are cowards, like their sex everywhere, and they run away and hide.

China itself, Siah says, is in a dangerous situation, and nothing short of enlightenment among its women as well as men can save it. Siah is the first woman public speaker China has known, so far as appears. In Shanghai, in the public gardens, she once spoke eloquently against the proposed scheme of Li Hung Chang to give Manchuria to Russian control. Siah King King is only eighteen years old.

AT WORK AGAIN

Congress Resumes Its Sessions After a Season of Rest.

SOME SENATORS TARDY

When the Senate Re-Convened There Were Not a Few Vacant Seats in the Chamber.

Senator Morgan Resumes His Fight For the Nicaragua Route For Big Canal.

Washington, Jan. 5.—Many of the senators who left Washington for the Christmas holidays are still absent and when business was resumed at noon today there was not a very full attendance. Before the week is far advanced, however, the senate again will be in regular working order and there will be little cessation of work before the 4th of March. The prediction is very general that the remainder of the session will be exceedingly busy because of the number of important questions which will be pressed for consideration before final adjournment.

During the present week and probably for some time to come the omnibus statehood bill, discussion on which was resumed today, will be the chief topic of discussion on the floor. It is the purpose of the friends of the bill to press its consideration and not to allow the bill to be sidetracked unless under very great pressure. The present purpose is to give way for appropriation bills, but there are now no appropriation bills on the senate calendar.

A large number of new bills and resolutions were introduced today, among them a joint resolution by Senator Morgan directing the executive department to cease negotiations with the government of Colombia for right-of-way for an isthmian canal and to close agreements with Costa Rica and Nicaragua for the construction of a canal by the Nicaragua route.

On Tuesday during the morning hour Senator Hoar will address the senate in support of his anti-trust bill. It is probable that his speech will give rise to more or less debate, but any discussion on this subject must cease at 2 o'clock unless unanimous consent should be procured to delay the statehood bill for a time.

In the House.

Washington, Jan. 5.—No complete program is mapped out for the house for the week. The leaders are very anxious to force the appropriation bills ahead as rapidly as possible. The Indian bill is on the calendar and headway is making in committee with the postoffice, diplomatic and consular and District of Columbia bills. Until the appropriation bills get into the hopper the house will occupy its time with miscellaneous matters brought up under calls of committees.

ADROIT MOVE

Sultan of Morocco Gets Best of the Pretender.

Tangiers, Morocco, Jan. 5.—According to official news received here from Fez the adroit move of the sultan in bringing his brother, Mulai-Mohammed, to the capital has attained the desired object of depriving the pretender to the throne of his prestige, and the latter has retired, discredited, to Taza. He has been deserted by a number of local tribes, who dispersed to make sure of their booty. Buhumara, the pretender, having claimed the intention of enthroning Mulai-Mohammed, his rebellion has no longer any reason to continue, as the sultan has publicly reconciled himself with his brother and Mulai-Mohammed has made a solemn entry into Fez acclaimed by the populace. The sultan has announced the appointment of Mulai-Mohammed as governor of the province of Fez, thus disproving the rumors that Mulai-Mohammed aspired to the throne. When this had been done, according to the official authority for these statements, the tribes around Fez swore fidelity to the sultan and denounced Buhumara as an impostor whom they would prevent from coming to Fez.

All immediate danger has disappeared. The routes from Fez to the coast are open. It is said the sultan is now preparing a large expedition with the intention of crushing the rebel lion.

Craven's Little Joke

How He Proved That Nat Hill Voted for Bryan for President.

Indianapolis, Jan. 5.—Former Representative John W. Cravens of Bloomington, while here for a meeting of the trustees of Indiana university, perpetrated a joke on Nat U. Hill, state treasurer-elect, that is still being enjoyed. Every politician knows that Hill is a most ardent Republican and that he would hardly vote for a Democrat under any circumstances. Yet Cravens solemnly informed a number of Republicans here that Hill had voted for Bryan for president. The Republicans tried to laugh him out of the talk and some of them told him to quit "smoking," but he held out that he could prove his assertion. He was so positive that Hill's friends began to waver. Cravens led them up to this point and then informed them that the Bryan Hill voted for was President Bryan of the university, of which Hill is a trustee.

Men who have to patronize barber shops will secretly hope that the bill proposed by the barbers' state association will glide gently through the legislature and become a law. The bill, if carried out, would provide that barbers should have a three years' experience in their business and a knowledge of skin diseases and proper sanitary measures before they could get license to practice. This course will be fought by a certain class of barbers, but a majority of the good men, it is said, are for it. There is no talk against it among the members, but it is too early to say what will be done with it. As a sanitary measure it is generally regarded with favor. There has been talk of a law to license barbers, but it failed in other sessions because of lack of sufficient energy to push it through.

The hotels are filling up with the law-makers. In the crowd today there were a number of members who are here for the session. The big show does not begin until Thursday, but the members want to be on hand in time. The Democrats will have a banquet at the Grand hotel tomorrow night at which it is probable they will outline their policy and talk about their leaders for the session. The Republicans are now swarming about Henry W. Marshall of Lafayette, who is to be speaker of the house. He is much sought after by the members who did not pledge themselves to any candidate, but who waited in vain for the bandwagon to perform. Marshall is now making up his committees, but he will not make any announcements until the beginning of the session. Lieutenant Governor Gilbert is also here getting his committees arranged.

Senators Wood of Lafayette, Ball of Monroe, and Gochenour of North Manchester, the committee appointed to pass on the qualifications of the employees of the senate, are expected to have a meeting here tonight. The Republican senators will name one employee aside from the committee's stenographers. This is the smallest number of employees the senate has had in recent years, but the last time there were twice as many as were needed. The Republicans don't intend to have a repetition of this state of affairs. The committee wants to pass on the employees at once so they will be ready to begin work early Thursday morning. The distribution of the patronage of the house will not be so easily settled, as there are sixty-five Republican members among whom it must be divided.

The Case of Judge Rasch.

Evansville, Ind., Jan. 5.—The Rasch case is still the principal theme of politicians and in fact all classes in this city. The meeting held by the members of the bar association in the presence of Judge Rasch was largely attended. No meeting in years in this city attracted more attention. The committee of attorneys appointed to look into the case held a meeting and it is reported will ask Judge Rasch to resign at once, and if he refuses to do so the governor will be asked to remove him. Judge Rasch is on the verge of collapse and his friends fear the shock to his nervous system is more than he can stand. He is not physically a strong man. The bar committee, which is composed of five Republicans and five Democrats, will probably make a report tomorrow.

Elephant Electrocut.

New York, Jan. 5.—Several hundred spectators yesterday witnessed the execution by electricity at Coney Island of "Topsy," an elephant that had killed three men and had recently become unmanageable. Immediately after 200 grains of cyanide of potassium had been administered, concealed in a carrot, a current of 6,600 volts was turned on through copper plates on which the animal stood. Almost immediately the animal fell, and at the end of ten seconds, when the current was turned off, was pronounced to be dead. An autopsy showed that the poison had not had time to take effect.

Nabbed Him This Time.

Vincennes, Ind., Jan. 5.—John Selby, the fugitive who forfeited his bond here and left several months ago, has been caught and is in custody at Bastrop, Tex. Recently he was located at Monett, Mo., but got away after the officers there had arrested the wrong man.

Traffic Suspended.

Tacoma, Wash., Jan. 5.—Traffic is at a standstill on the Northern Pacific, not a train leaving the city since Saturday, and the railroad officials are unable to make any definite statement as to the future. The Chinook still prevails and water is pouring down the cascades in torrents.

A Financial Crisis.

Willemstad, Island of Curacao, Jan. 5.—There was a financial panic at Caracas Saturday afternoon. A large number of small traders and private depositors went together to the office of the Bank of Venezuela for the purpose of exchanging the bank's notes for silver. The bank refused to exchange more than $20 worth of notes for any one person, and at 4 o'clock in the afternoon closed its doors. The panic continued. Bills issued by the bank are now selling for 80 per cent of their face value. The leading firms at Caracas, notwithstanding the present situation, have presented no notes for redemption, as they are all interested in supporting the bank.

Jumped the Track.

Birmingham, Ala., Jan. 5.—A passenger train on the Southern Railway bound from Atlanta to Birmingham, was derailed near Weems station, about fifteen miles from this city. The baggage and mail cars were completely wrecked and were thrown down an embankment. Although the train was filled with passengers, Engineer White was the only person who was killed. About twenty-seven passengers were injured. None of those who were injured is in a serious condition, as the passenger coaches remained on the track.

Looking For Trouble.

Indianapolis, Miss., Jan. 5.—Every effort is being made to suppress any trouble that might grow out of the closing of the postoffice. The mayor of the town and the sheriff of the county state that they do not apprehend that there will be an outbreak, but their action seems to speak louder than their words. The fact that a cordon of deputy sheriffs has been thrown around the town leads many to think that serious consequences will result.

Got the Drop First.

Bluefield, W. Va., Jan. 5.—Newton R. Liddle, who claimed to be a detective and that his home was in Raleigh county, was shot and instantly killed by Russell Lilly, a prominent citizen of this county. Lilly had been deputized to arrest the alleged detective by a magistrate. The arrest was resisted and Liddle was trying to shoot Lilly when the latter got his gun into action first.

The Dinner Pail

Of the American working man is generally well filled. In some cases it is too well filled. It contains too many kinds of food, and very often the food is of the wrong kind—hard to digest and containing little nutrition. As a consequence many a working man develops some form of stomach trouble which interferes with his health and reduces his working capacity.

Where there is indigestion or any other indication of disease of the stomach and its allied organs of digestion and nutrition, the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will almost invariably produce a perfect and permanent cure.

Mr. Thomas A. Swarts, of Sub Station C, Columbus, O., Box 107, writes: "I was taken with severe headache, then cramps in the stomach, and my food would not digest, then kidney and liver trouble and my back got weak so I could scarcely get around." At last I had all the complaints at once, the more I doctored the worse I got until five years passed. I had become so poorly I could only walk in the house by the aid of a chair, and I got so thin I had given up all thought of eating. I was weighed, and found I had gained twenty-seven (27) pounds. I am as stout and healthy to-day, I think, as I ever was.

Berlin, Jan. 5.—The government is without information regarding the landing of German marines at Puerto Cabello, Venezuela. The foreign office

EROME ANDERSON IN JAIL.

Suspected of Administering Poison to His Wife and Mother-in-law.

Jerome Anderson, whose home is in the Surprise neighborhood, was arrested at Bedford Sunday and he is now in jail at Brownstown. He is suspected of administering poison to his wife and her mother and sister a few days ago.

It seems, according to reports, that on last Tuesday Anderson's wife and mother-in-law, Mrs. Almira Shelton, and his wife's sister, who live together were all suddenly taken very sick. Dr. Davis, of Surprise, was called and found them suffering from the effects of poison.

The doctor worked with them heroically and after awhile had them out of danger. It was soon discovered that arsenic had been placed in the flour from which they had made and eaten bread. The doctor is quoted as saying that he found enough poison in a spoonful of the flour to kill a half dozen people.

Suspicion rested upon Anderson. Circumstantial evidence was gathered and finally a warrant was sworn out for his arrest. This was placed in the hands of Constable Stutz, of Brownstown, who went to Bedford and there placed him under arrest and brought him here Sunday and Sunday afternoon Sheriff Ford took him to jail at Brownstown to await a preliminary investigation.

It is told that a young woman of the Surprise neighborhood, with whom, it is alleged, he has been intimate, was to meet him at Bedford Sunday and that she was there ready to elope with him, but the officers got him first and turned him back this way. Anderson and his wife were married less than a year ago. They have a little child only a few weeks old.

The poisoning and what has developed since is the talk of the neighborhood where these people lived.

MARRIED.

ROSS-BLUMER.

Sunday evening at 6 o'clock Miss Anna L. Blumer and Andrew M. Ross were united in marriage at the home of the bride's mother on West Oak street. Rev. W. C. Both the bride and groom are held in high esteem and have a host of friends.

Poultry Exhibit in Old Capital.

The members of the Harrison county bar and the members of the Old Capital Poultry Association of Corydon, are at once on account of the old state capital being used by the poultry association for its annual exhibition which has just closed. Hot words passed between the members of the two factions.

The exhibition was a success, but there was great opposition among the leading business and professional men because the show was held in the capitol building. They claimed the dignity of the historic building has suffered.

The Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Ry

Many people unacquainted with the geography of the West imagine that because the names "Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul" are used in the corporate title of the railway owning the Short Line between Chicago and Omaha, they must go via the cities of Milwaukee and St. Paul to reach their destination—and if it be Omaha or west thereof. This is a mistaken idea. On a map the line running directly east and west would look like this:

There is nothing more simple than that, and it is less than 500 miles between Chicago and Omaha. Two through trains daily in each direction with the best sleeping car and dining car service, and all regular travelers know and appreciate the merits of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway's Short Line between the East and the West.

BROTHERHOOD MEN.

Railroad Employees Now in Chicago—Increase of Wages Demanded.

Officers of the various railroad brotherhoods and chairmen of general adjustment committees on all roads in the west, are hurrying toward Chicago for a conference which begins today.

Although the date set for the roads to give an answer is but two days distant, the railroad managers have held no meeting to consider the demands. The president of one of the largest roads in the west says the demands of the trainmen and conductor for an increase of 20 percent are unreasonable and will not receive serious consideration by the railroad managers.

He said that even an increase of 10 percent was out of the question, but that the men might be granted some where between 5 and 10 percent advance.

That this increase will not be accepted by the men is almost certain, as they refused an increase of 10 percent offered the switchmen in the Chicago yards a few weeks ago and finally secured about 12 1/2 percent advance.

The engineers and firemen from a number of roads are attending the meeting.

G. A. R. and W. R. C. Officers.

The new officers of Ellsworth Post, G. A. R., are:

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. ## THE AMERICAN MONTHLY REVIEW OF REVIEWS

How Can I Keep Up with the Times?

It is pretty hard to keep well informed on the political news, the scientific news, the literary news, the educational movements, the great business developments, the hundreds of interesting and valuable articles in the hundreds of excellent magazines. About the only way it can be done by the average busy man and woman is to read a magazine like "The Review of Reviews," and, as it is the only magazine of the sort, it is a good thing to send $2.50 for a year's subscription.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT says:
"I know that through its columns views have been presented to me that I could not otherwise have had access to; because all earnest and thoughtful men, no matter how widely their ideas diverge, are given free utterance in its columns."

EX-PRESIDENT GROVER CLEVELAND says:
"I consider it a very valuable addition to my library."

SERIOUS SITUATION

American Minister's Son in Guatemala Widely Threatened.

Louisville, Ky., Jan. 5.—A relative of former Minister Godfrey Hunter of Guatemala has received a letter from Sam Castleman, formerly of Chicago, but who is now in Guatemala, stating that Godfrey Hunter, Jr., who killed W. H. Fitzgerald in Guatemala City, had been threatened with assassination prior to the killing if he refused to leave the country. According to Mr. Castleman thirty-six witnesses at the investigation of the shooting by Mr. Hunter. None of these men, the letter states, are now in Guatemala City, while two are no longer in the republic.

W. GODFREY HUNTER, JR.

Mr. Castleman further states that the shots which killed Fitzgerald were fired in self-defense. He also says that Secretary of Legation Bailey had been threatened by the alleged conspirators.

Markle's Side of It.

Philadelphia, Jan. 5.—The answer of G. R. Markle & Co., independent coal operators, to the demands of the miners, was made public here Sunday, and was submitted to the anthracite strike committee, which reassembled in this city today. It was written by John Markle, managing partner of the firm, and denied many of the statements made by the miners in the presentation of their side of the case.

Caution.

This is not a gentle word—but when you think how liable you are not to purchase for the only remedy universally known and a remedy that has had the largest sale of any medicine in the world since 1868 for the cure and treatment of Consumption and Throat and Lung troubles without losing its great popularity all these years, you will be thankful we called your attention to Boschee's German Syrup. There are so many ordinary cough remedies made by druggists and others that are cheap and good for light colds perhaps, but for severe Coughs, Bronchitis, Croup—and especially for Consumption, where there is difficult expectoration and coughing during the nights and mornings, there is nothing like German Syrup. Sold by all druggists in the civilized world.

G. G. GREEN, Woodbury, N. J.

Pneumonia and La Grippe.

Cough cured quickly by Foley's Honey and Tar. Refuse substitutes. All druggists.

THE DOORBELL.

It Tells What Manner of Man You Are by Your Ring.

Doorbells are pretty fair indicators of character. Probably you have not been conscious of it, but every time you pull a doorbell you register what manner of man you are. Your ring will not tell everything about you, from the color of your eyes to your taste in flowers, but to those who know the signs the doorbell is as good as a title page. Any one who has had occasion to answer bell pulls knows how much difference there is in them. One person's method varies little from time to time, though the difference between that method and somebody else's while slight, will be sufficiently well marked. It is seldom that two rings are exactly alike.

The housewife recognizes each, the impatient man, who pulls the bell twice in quick succession and does not wait long before trying it again; the one of more phlegmatic temperament whose ring is slower and more substantial; the hesitating woman, who draws the knob out in a succession of nervous jerks; the seedy individual with matches to sell, who stretches the wire carefully to its full length and then allows it to relax with a faint, apologetic tinkle; and the jolly friend, who knows he is welcome, and therefore grasps the knob with a hearty swing that is fairly eloquent with good nature, and sets the bell to shaking its sides with such peals of echoing laughter that it positively cannot stop at once, but subsides gradually with a merry, irrepressible little titter. A doorbell has as many voices as a violin.—Berlin (Md.) Herald.

In Bed Four Weeks with La Grippe.

We have received the following letter from Mr. Roy Kemp, of Angola, Ind. "I was in bed four weeks with la grippe and tried many remedies and spent considerable for treatment with physicians, but I received no relief until I tried Foley's Honey and Tar. Two small bottles of this medicine cured me and now I use it exclusively in my family." Take no substitutes. All druggists.

Hilawatha.

"Such a confusing variance in the pronunciation of 'Hilawatha' exists both in dictionaries and in the speech of educated men and women," writes Elizabeth A. Withey in 'The Ladies' Home Journal,' "that I have asked Miss Longfellow how the word is pronounced by the poet's family. She says the pronunciation which she always heard from the poet himself is Hi-a-wa-tha, the 'i' pronounced as it is in 'machine' or 'pique,' the second 'a' pronounced as it is in 'far' or in 'father.'"

All in the Family.

"Biffy and his son and the Widow Binglewood and her daughter are going to form a community of interests."

"How so?"

"Biffy marries the widow, and his son marries the daughter."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Pocket Compasses.

Thousands of Them Sold Yearly to Hunters and Others.

"Pocket compasses," said a dealer in such things, "cost from 25 cents to $1 each, and they are made in various sizes, from tiny compasses half an inch or less in diameter up to those of about the size of a hunting case watch.

"Many compasses are carried in nickel hunting cases. Some of the tiny open compasses are carried for a charm on watch guards.

"In the cheaper pocket compasses the needle turns on a brass bearing; in the costlier compasses on a bearing of agate. In either, of course, the needle will point north, but the compass with the agate bearing will wear much longer.

"A good pocket compass will last a lifetime. A considerable part of the cost of the more expensive pocket compass may be due to the material used in them and to elaborateness of finish.

"A ten dollar compass, for instance, might have a pearl face, and so on, but a good compass, with an agate bearing, as good a compass, in fact, as a man needs, can be bought for $1.50.

"Every wise sportsman carries a compass, and compasses are carried by various other people. There are sold of pocket compasses of one sort and another thousands yearly."—New York Sun.

A Life at Stake.

The Home of the Kindergarten.

The Japanese have the most perfect kindergarten system in the world. In fact, they originated this method of instructing by entertainment instead of by punishment inflicted. Their play apparatus for such purpose is elaborate, but all of it is adapted to the infant mind, which it is designed at once to amuse and to inform. The little ones of Japan even become somewhat interested in mathematics by seeing and feeling what a pretty thing a cone, a sphere or a cylinder is when cut out of wood with a lathe. They make outlines of solid figures out of straw, with green pens to hold the joints together, and for the instruction of the blind tact blocks are provided with the Japanese characters raised upon them.

General Grant's Namesake.

A number of years ago a son was born to a colored woman in the south, and as he was her first she looked upon him with pride and was much at a loss to find a name for him. Relatives and friends, including her mistress, were appealed to; but, although many names were suggested, all were discarded.

After many days of deliberation she said one morning to her mistress: "Miss Mary, I've found a name for my boy. I'm going to name him Delicous."

"Why," said the lady, "where did you get that name?"

"Oh," she cried, "I'm going to call him that 'cause I want to name him for Mr. Grant."

When it was explained to her that the great hero was named Ulysses and not Delicous, she was somewhat disturbed in mind, but Ulysses did not please her, so the boy had to begin life burdened with the name Egbert Eugene.—Detroit Free Press.

William Wirt's Reformation.

William Wirt, the great lawyer, attorney general of the United States and prosecutor of Aaron Burr when he was tried for treason, was stupefied and made sensuous by liquor. At times he lost all self control and self respect. On one occasion while drunk he fell in the streets of Richmond. While lying there asleep Miss G., the most beautiful woman in the city, to whom he was betrothed, came along, saw him and placed her handkerchief, on which was her name, over his face. He awakened, saw the name, learned the incident, and it reformed him.—Beverages.

His Scheme.

Filbert—Aren't you afraid to be so knowing about poker when your wife is around?

Kitty—Quite the contrary. It is the man who laughs the loudest over a poker joke who knows the least about the game. My wife knows that, and it is my cue to be the man who does the loud laughter.—Boston Transcript.

Stop It.

A neglected cough or cold may lead to serious bronchial or lung troubles. Don't take chances when Foley's Honey and Tar affords perfect security from serious effects of a cold. All druggists.

ENGLAND'S SEA GYPSIES.

A Strange Little Tribe That Lives Always on Boats.

A strange and almost unknown part of the population (if it can be called that) of the British Isles is the queer semi-wild folk known as sea gypsies. Real gypsies they are, differing from their fellow gypsies in the fact that they always live on the sea and that, never having mingled with landmen, their type is much purer and more nearly resembles the original.

There are about 500 sea gypsies in Britain. They cruise along the coast, seldom touching the land, but always close to it, in old and weatherbeaten craft that may have carried their grandfathers.

When the tide is out, the old craft will often drop anchor by a sand bank and land far out at sea, and her crew will grub for cockles with their hands, filling a score of baskets, but saying nothing to each other, for they are almost out of the habit of speech. They find fifty shellfish where the ordinary fisherman finds one, but they rarely do the same thing two days running, and in the next hour they may be snaring rabbits on a headland miles away.

The sea gypsies are wild eyed and thickest. Their hair is always either jet black or golden. They are still of almost pure Norse or Danish descent, never having used the land and mixed with the shore folk to any extent. Their hands seem to be all thumbs instead of fingers, so powerful and stubby are the digits, because they have done nothing but haul ropes and dig in the wet sand.—New York Press.

His Favorite Dish.

"What is your favorite dish?" inquired Mrs. Frontpaw of the Rev. Longface, the new pastor. She felt sure it was chicken, but it proved not.

"Er—the contribution plate," answered the Rev. Longface absently.—Ozlo State Journal.

Paper Quills.

In some parts of England there is quite a trade carried on by poor people in making paper quills for their poorer neighbors. They are simply composed of sheets of brown paper sewed together and perforated all over at distances of an inch or two apart, covered with chintz or cretonne on one side and lined with patchwork or old sheets—anything available, in fact. They make surprisingly warm covers and are much appreciated.—London Tit-Bits.
